HELLO

My name is Sarah, and if you're reading this, thanks for checking me out! I've been making music for nearly 20 years now and have 8 songs currently available on streaming platforms. Previously, I released a full album in 2010 and an EP in 2012, which are no longer available for streaming. I've formally performed in at least 7 countries since my very first release, and over that time, my style has evolved from pop, to folksy singer-songwriter, to indie electronica, and soul. All of these styles resonate with me still, and I continue to find ways to meld them together and explore other genres. To check out my current releases, click the links below. Thanks so much ♡
